A place in the sun

Kendall Hill dones wide-brimmed hat and zinc cream to seek out Australia's best beach houses

From $1975 to $7000 a week for big happy families. guests; www.stayz.com.au/4776.
Ron Roozen's Place, Margaret River, WA: Britain's The Independent newspaper came to Ron Roozen's Place above the bombie at Prevelly Beach and liked it so much it placed it in its top five beach houses of the world. That's just one of many accolades for this modernist coastal home with three king-sized bedrooms, two bathrooms and endless Indian Ocean views. Local artist and surfer Roozen commissioned Sydney architect Dale Jones-Evans to design the cliff-edge home, which Roozen's partner Karen Siddall manages expertly. After 10 years running the five-star Cape Lodge, she's on hand to oversee every luxury touch of your stay, from private chefs to wine touring. From $550 for two a night ($600 for four).
